Disclosure Information

Conflict of Interest and FDA disclosure is required by all authors before an abstract and/or surgical video can be submitted within the abstract database. If a potential conflict of interest exists, disclose the name of the organization/company and the potential conflict. Full disclosure for each author must be completed before submitting the abstract and/or surgical video. The ScholarOne Submission site will not allow an abstract or surgical video to be submitted without a full disclosure from each author.

- It is the responsibility of the primary author to obtain and provide disclosure information for each author listed on an abstract and/or surgical video.
- For oral presentations, all disclosures must be stated orally at the beginning of the presentation, must be written on the first slide of the presentation and will be noted in published material. Speakers are required to disclose that they have nothing to disclose if that is the case.
- If the submitter fails to enter an author's disclosure, the abstract submission site will not allow the completion of the submission until every field has been completed.

Southern Thoracic Surgical Association Policy Regarding Disclosure

The Southern Thoracic Surgical Association (STSA) will seek thorough financial and commercial disclosure information, according to ACCME requirements and recommendations, from all presenters and moderators participating in an STSA Annual Meeting. Failure or refusal to provide disclosure information automatically disqualifies participation. All disclosure information will be communicated to the learners through appropriate means, including but not limited to the Annual Meeting Program book.

STSA leadership, planning committee members, and staff will also provide disclosure information to be kept on file and communicated to meeting attendees through the Annual Meeting Program Book.

All abstracts and disclosure statements will be reviewed approximately three (3) months prior to the Annual Meeting by staff for unidentified conflicts of interest. Any such potential conflicts will be brought to the attention of the STSA President, Chairman, and CME Committee Chair for review and resolution. Any potential conflicts of interest must be resolved before presentation. If a conflict is deemed unresolveable, the paper cannot be presented at the Annual Meeting.

The STSA Disclosure Policy (as outlined below) will be communicated to the learner via the Annual Meeting Program Book.
EDUCATION DISCLOSURE POLICY: As a sponsor of continuing medical education accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Southern Thoracic Surgical Association requires that any individual who is in a position to control the content of an educational activity must disclose all relevant financial relationships (including known relationships of his or her immediate family, department, and partners) with any healthcare-related business or other entity whose products or services may be discussed in, or directly affected in the marketplace by, the educational content. The ACCME defines a “relevant financial relationship” as a relationship of any amount occurring within the previous twelve (12) months. The question of whether a disclosed conflict situation could represent undue influence on the educational activity by a commercial interest, or whether the disclosed information is sufficient to consider an abstract, presentation, or other educational enduring material to represent potentially biased information must be resolved prior to an individual’s involvement in STSA educational programming.

Required disclosures include (1) financial interest of any amount (e.g., through ownership of stock, stock options, or bonds) (2) the receipt of any amount of cash, goods or services within the current 12-month period (e.g., through research grants, employment, consulting fees, royalties, travel, or gifts) or (3) a non-remunerative position of influence (e.g., as officer, director, trustee or public spokesperson). NOTE: To avoid confusion with regard to the question of “relevance,” STSA requires that anyone in a position to control content (planners, speakers, authors, volunteer leaders, staff) must review the content they are addressing and disclose relationships with companies that have a material interest in the content being covered regardless of the division of the company for which that relationship exists. For instance, if a speaker will be referencing a product made by the X division of ABC company, but his relationship is with the Y division, he must still disclose the relationship. EXCLUDED from this disclosure requirement are blind trusts or other passive investments such as mutual funds. In the case of a financial or other relationship disclosure, the company, product/service, and specific nature of the relationship must be noted. Disclosure is mandatory for any person involved in the planning, management, presentation, and/or evaluation of STSA educational activities.

Failure to disclose relevant financial relationships disqualifies the individual from being a planning committee member, a teacher, or an author of CME materials, and this individual cannot have any responsibility for the development, management, presentation, or evaluation of STSA CME activities. This requirement is intended neither to imply any impropriety of such relationships nor to prejudice any individual presenter or author. It is merely to identify such relationships through full disclosure, and to allow the STSA to assess and resolve potential influences on the educational activity prior to the planning and implementation of an educational activity. All abstracts and presentations are reviewed for potential conflicts of interest. All conflicts of interest must be resolved prior to presentation. Any abstract / paper with a conflict that is deemed unresolvable will not be presented at the Annual Meeting. If no relevant financial relationships exist, the individual must indicate this on the disclosure form.

Additionally, the fact that the presentation, paper, or other educational product describes (a) the use of a device, product, or drug that is not FDA approved or (b) an off-label use of an approved device, product, or drug must also be disclosed. This requirement has been adopted in response to FDA policy and recent case law involving medical societies, and is not intended to prohibit or inhibit independent presentation or discussion regarding the uses of devices, products, and drugs as described in (a) or (b) above.

For live presentations, all disclosures must be stated orally or on a slide at the beginning of the presentation and will be noted in published material related to the activity. Slides, handouts, and other materials utilized as part of an educational activity cannot contain any advertising, trade names or a product group message. Speakers are required to disclose that they have nothing to disclose if this is the case.
Withdrawal of an Abstract or Surgical Video

- To withdraw an abstract or surgical video, the presenter must notify the STSA in writing. E-mail stsa@stsa.org and include the title of the abstract and/or surgical video and the abstract control number.
- Persons submitting an abstract and/or surgical video do so with the understanding of the above policies and must abide by the conditions, deadlines, and decisions of the Program Committee.

Abstract and Surgical Video Review Process

To ensure fairness, abstracts are read and graded in a blinded fashion with no references to authors or institutions. Abstracts and surgical videos are reviewed by peer reviewers based on scientific merit, originality, and practice gaps identified. The Program Committee is composed of STSA members selected by the President.

With regard to the discussion of papers at the Annual Meeting, the STSA encourages a healthy spirit of constructive critical review and rebuttal via comments pertinent to the content of the paper being presented. Discussions taking the form of "secondary papers" will not be accepted.
